PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

Dr. Paula Musuva is an Assistant Professor of Information Systems at the United States International University – Africa (USIU-Africa) and a research-active scholar-practitioner in cybersecurity, digital forensics, and information systems audit, with more than 20 years of combined experience in academia, applied research, and industry practice across Kenya, Uganda, Rwanda, Ethiopia, South Africa, and the United Kingdom.

She is co-founder and Curriculum & Training Director of the Cyber Shujaa Program, one of East Africa's most impactful cybersecurity workforce-development initiatives, which has trained more than 5,000 youth from over 80 tertiary institutions, placed more than 80% of graduates into decent employment, and achieved 41% women's participation — research and practice she has translated into peer-reviewed publications on closing the cybersecurity workforce gap.

She holds a PhD in Information Systems from the University of Nairobi, has authored 20+ peer-reviewed journal articles and conference papers, supervises doctoral and master's researchers, and holds over 60 professional certifications. Her work has attracted competitive, multi-currency research and program funding — including a £200,000 CFYE workforce-development grant, over €200,000 in Serianu-partnered research funding, and $15,000 in SWIFT Institute case grants — and she has represented Kenya as a delegate to the United Nations General Assembly's First Committee Open-Ended Working Group on international cybersecurity, reflecting a research profile that bridges rigorous scholarship with national and regional policy impact.
